Neighbourhood Prayer Network

Update #1

Dear Carl,

We wanted to send you this first update as you have responded to our recent email, or we have already been talking about the Launch of Neighbourhood Prayer Network.

We're about a month away from the soft launch of the network, on March 26th, we're so pleased to say that our home church is helping us get the network off the ground. It's being promoted through 'An Order of St. Leonard Conference'.

Carl is still very busy as a Director of UCB (United Christian Broadcasters) as well as helping or being involved in a few other charities, and Rebekah is still doing part time GP (locum) work as well as working on a Social Action directory for Church and Christian Groups Manchester.

We aim in Neighbourhood Prayer Network to work smarter not harder and empower people in the place where they are to engage more in prayer and their local community. Essentially recognising the work of the Local Church and seeing if we can provide resources which can further help - that simple.

So far we have interest for the Network to become adopted into the work of Hope Together (Formerly Hope 08), Billy Graham Evangelism Association, More than Gold, a raft of churches and even some friends have shown interest overseas (USA & Canada). We are planning to run as much of the network online as possible, to keep costs down and to give access to some great resource as the months unfold.

OK to the launch. The March Soft Launch, we are calling Phase 1, where we are asking 12 churches in total to participate, you might be amongst them. We'll run the programmes for six months and see what works, what doesn't work, get valuable feedback and make adjustments from there. This will take us roughly to the end of September.

Phase 2, will then launch with around 100 churches, rolling out the refined programme and seeing how they get on for a further six months. The main launch will then happen in March 2012 open to all and preparing to put loads of prayer behind the Olympics.

UCB is the main media Partner for the project and we hope you will be able to get involved. The website will launch on the day of the soft launch and we'll be updating that regularly.

So keep a check on things online. We'll be sending an update out every month, so your inbox is not overloaded by us.

Keep in touch, with any questions etc.

Every Blessing,

Carl & Rebekah Brettle
